Pentecost Sunday

Sunday Year B
Weekday Cycle II

“Be aware.”

Some years ago, a family was travelling to America across the Atlantic Ocean on a ship. As part of their preparation for the long journey the mother of the family purchased some fresh bread and cheese prior to boarding: it would serve as their provisions for the crossing. After almost a week of bread and cheese for breakfast, lunch and supper, the eldest child, a boy approaching his teens, complained bitterly to his father that he just could not stomach any more bread and cheese. His father took compassion on him, produced a penny from his pocket and told the boy to go and get an ice cream.

The boy later returned, grinning from ear to ear. His father, curious about his son's overwhelming happiness, asked: “Did you have an ice cream?” Not just one replied the boy, but plates and plates of ice cream, not to mention the steak and chips I had first!” His father was confused. “And all that for a penny?”, he said. Promptly the boy took out of his pocket the penny and gave it back to his father saying, “No, it was all free, the food is included in the ticket.”

How often have we said, “if only”, if only I knew the food was free, if only I was aware what was on offer, if only I recognised the plentiful gift.

“If only.” If only you realise what I have given you already and what you will receive after I have gone. The Gospel passage today is a part of what is termed “the farewell discourse”. At the Last Supper, the night before he died, St John recalls Jesus’ final words to his closest friends, his twelve apostles. What we hear today, on this feast of Pentecost, is his promise, or rather his revelation, that they would receive his spirit. It is the Holy Spirit which will enable them to continue his work of proclaiming to the nations the Good News of the Kingdom of God. In this passage, Jesus is telling his apostles that the Advocate, the Holy Spirit, to be sent by the Father, will powerfully work in and through them to proclaim a future kingdom of truth. The Holy Spirit will complement all of the work of proclamation that Jesus has himself already carried out. The kingdom of truth which he speaks of is the eternal life promised to those who are faithful. This was Jesus’ “if only” to his apostles. If only you can understand fully the mission you have been called to continue... If only you can understand the power of the Holy Spirit that will be working in and through you...
