Sunday 26th November 2023
 The Feast of Christ the King

Sunday Year A Weekday Cycle I

*“In so far as you did this to one of the least of these...
 you did it to me.”*

In his sermon at the funeral of Queen Elizabeth II in Westminster Abbey in September 2022, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Justin Welby, took as his theme the servant leadership that had marked the life of the late Queen. The fact that this resonated so well with millions of those who listened was that her commitment to her Christian faith and to a life of service was a theme marking her whole life. Her service of her Lord was revealed in her service of others; the power she exercised was not that of might. It was something she publicly committed to on her twenty-first birthday.

That same commitment to service was made by or for each one of us at our baptism and confirmation. Today we are invited to reflect on our personal commitment to the Lord, serving him in others.

The account of the last judgement given towards the end of Matthew’s Gospel is interesting in both its contemporary use of a clear moral imperative for the future. The separating of sheep from goats would have been a frequent task for the shepherds of Christ’s day; the animals were herded together and separated when it came time for market or stocktaking. Matthew uses an everyday image to convey an easy-to-understand principle to his hearers. We too shall face judgement; it is a certainty of our faith. It is a simple judgement, not complicated by questionnaires or examinations; the Lord - to whom all hearts are open - will point us one way or the other.

Matthew reminds us in the story that when that separation of the “sheep” from the “goats” takes place, it will be too late to do anything about it. There is no opportunity to put our side of the story, no bargaining or appeals process, no jury of our peers. If we want to influence the decision, we had better do it now, while we still have the chance. St Benedict puts it eloquently in his Rule: “Run while you still have the light of Christ!”

Fr Martin’s Health

Thank you to those who have extended words of support and offered your help. As we said last weekend Fr Martin is suffering from post herpetic neuralgia as a result of having had shingles. He is not yet back to full strength but has this week, after a good rest on Monday and Tuesday, begun to reduce the medication he is taking. God willing he will be back to full strength soon. Thank you for your patience.

Safeguarding Forms

If you have been handed a Safer Recruitment or full DBS form recently, please complete them and return them to Fr. Martin or the Parish Office. If you would like help with completing these forms then please ask Jodie or Aileen who are willing to assist. Thank you for your understanding and support in this.

Anyone who volunteers will, therefore, need to understand the church’s policies and procedures and the importance of data protection, data security and confidentiality. Thank you for your continued support.
