"The kingdom of God is very near."

A Christian writer once used the analogy of a kite he received as a present when he was a child. He eagerly ripped off the wrapping, only to find that the wrapping was actually the most crucial part of the kite, so that it was now ruined.

The idea of the Church as mission is a bit like that. To be missionary is not an add-on extra to the Church: mission is what the Church is. The Church herself is the continuance of the mission of the Son of God from the Father. Christ himself only came as a human being because he was sent by the Father. Since no human being can do much on his or her own - in fact humans can't be much on their own - Christ had to extend that mission through his Church. The wrapping paper was the wings of the kite - and the Church does not fly if it is not missionary.

In all three synoptic Gospels - Matthew, Mark and Luke - Jesus sends out the twelve apostles, but only in the Gospel of St Luke do we have this second sending of the seventy-two disciples. If we think of the Gospel of St Luke and the Acts of the Apostles as one work in two parts, this makes even more sense. For Luke, the Church is continually expanding. So first Our Lord sends out the Twelve. They are called the Twelve, rather than the apostles, because they represent the twelve sons of Jacob, who were the fathers of the twelve tribes of Israel. The twelve apostles will form the new Israel. Now he sends out the seventy-two.

We can speculate about the meaning of these numbers, as many commentators have done, but the important thing is that the Church is expanding. For most of us, even clergy, it is rare to be a missionary in the traditional sense. Not many of us are sent out from our homes to carry the Gospel. Yet the words of Christ apply to every life, to every person. We should not force our faith on anyone but we should look for and encourage faith in others, and that faith should generate a shared life of some sort.

Sometimes we live very closely with others who do not share our faith. That is fine; they may be our friends and family, neighbours and colleagues. Nonetheless, for Christians there should be people in our life who are united to us by faith, even if it is only the people we meet in church on a Sunday. Still, there will be times when we may have to choose to enter into the house of a person of peace, or to "shake the dust off our shoes" in response to one who would oppose our faith.

We shouldn't think of the rejection by or of others as a negative way of living. We are never to disregard the needs of others. Jesus cured those who were sick, even in his home town when he could find no faith there. However, we are called to build community, a community based on our shared faith. This means following where the peace of God leads us, being open to the lives of other people of faith, or who are open to learning about and sharing our faith. The seventy-two do find houses where that peace is to be found, and they do find people who, being destined to receive the faith, will form the new community with them.

Prayers for the Sick

Thank you for your heartfelt prayers for all those who are sick. We pray especially for Brian Fury, Justine Hocking, William Walton, Sabina Mason, Dominic Keogh, Brian Bickle, Rita Lawless, Kathleen Fitzpatrick, Mary Bradwell, Nikita Quinn, William Green and Bishop Christopher Budd at this time. (If you would like to include a close family member in the prayers for the sick then please email the Parish Office.)

Welcomers & Presentation of the Gifts

If anyone would like to bring forward the Gifts then please would you speak with any of the Welcomers before the celebration of Mass. We encourage those helping in this way to continue to wear your masks during this time. Thank you for your ongoing support.

Gift Aid & Planned Giving Envelopes

While we have a small number of Gift Aid Envelopes we are encouraging as many parishioners as possible, who give in this way, to consider giving by Standing Order. Given that many of our banks have now closed and the challenges and additional expenses associated with dealing with cash, it makes our admin very much easier, less time consuming and less expensive. Thank you to those who give this way.

Weekday Masses

In order to help Fr. Martin to keep contact with family back home he doesn't take days off but visits home each month for a few days. He will be away week this week. As such there will be one weekday Mass only on Wednesday 6th July at Most Holy Trinity, celebrated by Fr. Brian Stevens.

CAR PARKING IN NEWQUAY IMPORTANT UPDATE

Please take with you the insert regarding the Parking in Most Holy Trinity, Newquay. Please note that you will continue to have free parking on the following times:

Saturday from 5.00 pm – 8.00 pm and Sunday 8.00 am - 1.00pm

For all other times, all visitors must go to the Reception to register your vehicle and avoid a fine. If you have any issues with Parking Eye please come to reception first. Thank you for your support in enabling us to move forward with this.

COVID - UPDATE

While we move back to normal we still request face masks to be worn during our Masses. This is out of a sense of support to those who are still fearful, are being cautious and also recognises that some of our parishioners have not been vaccinated. You will appreciate we are keen to ensure that our Church is a place where people feel safe to gather for worship. Thank you for your ongoing support and for your selflessness with this matter.

Parish Finances Update

Having recently completed the end of year returns for the whole parish we have our next Finance Committee meeting planned on 22nd July. We aim to produce our annual parish report shortly after that meeting.

While there are some restricted funds that can only be spent on particular projects or churches the parish funds are intended for the use of the whole parish, wherever there is a need. If you see any particular needs then please bring those issues to our attention. Thank you for your ongoing support.

Parish Pastoral Councils

Given the rich diversity within our extended parish but, nevertheless, seeking to move forward, we looking at establishing a local Pastoral Council in each of our communities. One of the main focuses, in Perranporth and St Agnes, will be looking at the buildings (including safeguarding their future) and what we would like to see taking place including social gatherings as well as church services etc.

If you have not already made your interest known to Fr Martin then please speak with him or with the Parish Office. Thank you again for your support with this. Together we can continue to make a difference in the lives of the communities we serve.

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Entrance Antiphon:

Your merciful love, O God,
we have received in the midst of your temple.
Your praise, O God, like your name,
reaches the ends of the earth;
your right hand is filled with saving justice.

Liturgy of the Word

First Reading: Isaiah 66:10-14

Responsorial Psalm:

Cry out with joy to God, all the earth.

Second Reading: Galatians 6:14-18

Gospel Acclamation:

Alleluia, alleluia!
I call you friends, says the Lord,
because I have made known to you everything I have learnt from my Father.
Alleluia!

Gospel: Luke 10:1-9

Communion Antiphon:

Taste and see that the Lord is good;
blessed the man who seeks refuge in him.

Communion on the Tongue

A while ago we received guidance which allowed those who, prior to the COVID pandemic, received Communion on the tongue to resume that practice. We, as ministers, during the distribution of Communion are encouraged to avoid physical contact especially when distributing Holy Communion on the tongue. As this is extremely difficult to judge, and seeking to avoid cross contamination, I follow the practice of washing and sanitising my hands before further distribution.

As a result and to assist us in this we would encourage those who wish to receive Communion on the tongue to do so towards the end of Communion, thus avoidance disruption for other communicants. Thank you for your ongoing support with this sensitive matter.

Second Collection

Please note that there will be a second collection this weekend for Peter's Pence. Thank for your prayerful support.
