Prayers for the Dead during the Month of November

During the Month of November, we remember especially in our prayers and during the celebration of Mass our loved ones who have already gone before us.

“Being children of the resurrection they are sons of God.”

The British Prime Minister Winston Churchill was once asked what it was like to stand in the House of Commons at the despatch box and to face the enemy. Churchill said, “Do you mean the people sitting on the opposite side of the House? They’re not the enemy: they’re the opposition. The enemy are sitting behind me.” Of course it was a joke, but one that political party leaders throughout the world might understand. A variant of this is the adage, “Keep your friends close to you, and your enemies closer.” Too cynical? Perhaps, but it is wise to remember that there may not always be a great distance separating cynicism and truth. A common theme in theatrical and operatic works is the tragedy of an important figure relying on a particular friend or servant, only to find, at the end of the story, that the trusted one is nothing more than a cynical traitor, happy to betray them.

Given the prevalence of this particular feature of life, it is not at all surprising to find that prominent leaders in various biblical settings suffer betrayal at the hands of those whom they had trusted implicitly. Christians are well aware of one of these in the life of Jesus: his betrayal at the hands of one of his twelve closest associates, Judas Iscariot.

Perhaps the biggest shock is that religious leaders would take any and every opportunity to put an end to Jesus, whose utterances were often directed against the hypocrisy of the religious leaders of his time.

You would be forgiven for thinking that surely nothing terribly problematic should arise from a theological difference of position; but again, just think how many wars have been started with religion at their heart - crusades in the Middle Ages, the Reformation throughout Europe - and to this day people are being executed in the name of religion.

Jesus had become such a challenge to the religious authorities that they were prepared to have him killed. In today’s Gospel, we learn first and foremost that the major religious groups - such as the Pharisees and Sadducees - felt challenged by Jesus’ teaching, not least because his teaching was something he put into practice in his own life. In regard to the question they asked him today, Jesus was nearer in theology to Pharisees than he was to the Sadducees, who had no belief in the resurrection of the dead. Their reason for this was that in the so-called books of Moses, the books of Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy, there is no mention of the resurrection of the dead.

Volunteers

We have, since COVID, become aware that the number of volunteers has seriously diminished. This, as you might appreciate, is having a huge impact on what we can do. We would encourage every parishioner to consider in what way you might be able to contribute. Thank you for sharing your time and giftedness in this way.

We apologise for not always being able to take communion to the sick and housebound as we don't have the volunteers that we used to.

COVID - UPDATE

Thank you for continuing to wear face Masks during our celebrations. While we seek to move back to normal we still request, due to the continuing rise in cases, that face masks to be worn during our Masses. In doing this we support those who are still fearful, are being cautious and also recognises that some of our parishioners have not been vaccinated. You will appreciate we are keen to ensure that our Church is a place where people feel safe to gather for worship. Thank you for your ongoing support and for your selflessness with this matter.
